Monthly comment

Global equity markets experienced their first monthly decline of the year due to increasing caution from investors amidst rising tensions in the Middle East and a hawkish interest rate outlook. While some inflation numbers were higher than expected, key economic data remained strong. Despite a solid start to the earnings season, the Partners Group Listed Investments SICAV – Listed Private Equity declined, with alternative asset managers being the only negative contributors. In general, earning results were in line with expectations, with private equity vehicles reporting solid NAV growth and BDCs benefiting from concerns about prolonged high interest rates.

The best performer during the reporting period was CVC Capital Partners, a UK-based private equity manager. The company has been added to the portfolio after its IPO in April. The debut was long-awaited, it was oversubscribed multiple times and one of the largest IPOs in Europe this year. The company benefits from a broad investment platform including four categories: private equity, credit, secondaries, as well as infrastructure and manages EUR 186bn of AUM. The focus is on private equity, which accounts for the majority of assets and maintains a strong track record. More importantly, senior management is well aligned and will own more than 70% of the company post IPO.

On the other hand, the Swedish alternative asset manager EQT was among the weakest performers, reporting quarterly results that missed fundraising expectations as the flagship fund, Infrastructure VI, raised only an additional EUR 1.4bn during the first quarter and analysts now expect the closing to be in early 2025. Despite this, EQT continues to have strong performance across its flagship funds and maintains a positive outlook, given the fundraising for the Asia flagship BPEA IX will start this year, continued focus on the expansion into private wealth, and potential external growth through the acquisition of another manager.

BDCs, on the other hand, saw positive performance, benefiting from concerns that rates would remain high. The US-based company Golub Capital BDC, specialized in lending to middle-market companies, was one of the top performers in that segment after reporting solid preliminary results. Net investment income surpassed expectations, primarily due to reduced management and incentive fees. Furthermore, the credit quality remains strong, and NAV experienced growth. Additionally, the pending merger is expected to further boost NAV.
